A press release from the Arizona Dept. Of Economic Security, Research Administration

November 16, 2006

Arizona Nonfarm Jobs Reach Record High in October; Statewide Jobless Rate at 3.9%

Arizona's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 3.9 percent in October, up two-tenths of one percentage point from September. At the national level, the jobless rate was 4.4 percent, down two-tenths of one percentage point.

Across the state's metropolitan areas (MSAs), the Phoenix-Mesa-Scottsdale and Prescott MSAs tied for the lowest adjusted unemployment rate – 3.4 percent. Third and fourth lowest among the MSAs were Tucson (3.9 percent) and Flagstaff (4.6 percent). Yuma had the highest adjusted unemployment rate at 14.2 percent.

Arizona's economy showed a greater-than-expected increase of 29,900 nonfarm jobs in October. Goods-producing industries accounted for 3,900 of the monthly gain, while service-providing industries represented 26,000. All but one of the economy's major industries experienced employment gains in October. Six super-sectors reached record levels: construction; trade, transportation and utilities; financial activities; professional and business services; educational and health services; and other services. Over the year, Arizona has added 121,200 jobs, bringing the total number of nonfarm jobs in Arizona in October to 2,684,200, a new all-time high.

Trade, transportation and utilities gained 7,500 jobs in October and also reached a new high. After displaying moderate weakness since January, retail trade recovered somewhat in October by adding 5,000 jobs. Many sub-sectors within retail trade added jobs. Some included: clothing and clothing accessories (+800), general merchandise (+1,500), furniture and home furnishings (+600) and building materials and garden equipment (+600). Transportation, warehousing and utilities also had gains (+1,200). Air transportation was down by 100 jobs while truck transportation was up 200. Utilities remained flat.

Professional and business services added 5,100 jobs to reach a record level of jobs at 406,200. The administrative and support and waste management sector gained 3,300 of these jobs, mostly in employment services (+2,600).

Government had an increase of 4,600 jobs, versus the large seasonal increases of the last several months. The majority of the gains occurred in the local government sector (+4,100), mostly in the education subsector (+3,800). Federal government lost 500 jobs.

Leisure and hospitality increased its workforce by 3,900 in October. Accommodation and food services grew by 3,100 jobs, with food services (+2,000) accounting for a majority of those gains. Accommodation alone gained 1,100 jobs.

Construction added 3,700 jobs and reached another record, 252,400. Growth was widespread among the sectors: specialty trades experienced the largest increase (+1,700); the buildings sector was second (+1,600), followed by heavy construction with 400 jobs. The over-the-year growth rate in this industry remained at a healthy 10.4 percent.

Educational and health services experienced greater-than-average growth by adding 2,900 jobs. Educational services posted a gain of 1,100 jobs. Health care and social assistance grew by 1,800 jobs. Similar to local government education, there were smaller job increases in educational services than in previous months.

Financial activities expanded by 1,300 jobs and also reached a new record in October of 183,700. The majority of the gain occurred in finance and insurance (+700), with real estate and rental and leasing adding 600 jobs. Financial activities still maintained a respectable 4 percent over-the-year growth rate.

Other services (which includes businesses that are not elsewhere classified) reported an increase of 900 jobs and reached a record level of employment – 98,800.

Unlike nationally, Arizona's manufacturing industry gained a small number of jobs in the month of October (+100), with nondurable goods adding 100 jobs and durable goods remaining flat. Fabricated metal grew by 200 jobs, while computer and electronic parts lost 100 and aerospace products and parts stayed level. Growth in manufacturing jobs has slowed in 2006 from over-the-year growth of 2.5 percent in January to 0.4 percent in October.

Natural resources and mining continued its steady growth by adding 100 jobs in metal ore mining.

Information continued its weakness with a reported loss of 200 jobs in October. Publishing industries grew by 100 jobs while telecommunications pared 100. Other losses occurred in unreported sectors.

October represents another solid month of job growth for Arizona's economy, with over-the-year growth remaining near 5 percent. All but one major industry reported job gains and, once again, record levels of employment were reached by six of 11 major industries. At 3.9 percent, Arizona's unemployment rate has been fairly low and the 12-month moving average has been trending downward. All of this suggests an economy with plenty of job opportunities as Arizona businesses prepare for increased tourism and the holiday season.
